Serves: 1

3 ounces Fresh watermelon juice (a medium watermelon produces about 2-3 quarts of juice)

1 fresh basil leaf

1 ounce fresh lemon juice

1.5 ounces vodka (I used Eli's StrongArm Vodka from Tom's Town Distillery)

Slice and cube watermelon, process in the food processor, pour through a fine colander and collect the clear juice (reserve the pulp).

Muddle a basil leaf, and a tablespoon of the pulp in a glass. Add the watermelon juice and lemon juice. Add vodka and stir. Add ice. Garnish with a fresh basil leaf.
